In addition, as required by law, the Organiser has protection in place to refund your payments and, if transport is included in the package, ensure your repatriation in the event that they become insolvent.

Fundamental rights under Directive (EU) 2015/2302:

2. There is always at least one professional responsible for the proper execution of all travel services included in the contract.
3. Travellers shall be provided with an emergency telephone number or contact point details through which they can reach the organiser or travel agent.
4. Travellers may transfer the package to another person, subject to reasonable notice and possibly subject to additional charges.
5. The price of the package can only be increased if the specific costs (e.g. fuel prices) increase and if expressly provided for in the contract and, in any case, no later than 20 days after the start of the package. If the price increase is more than 8% of the package price, the traveler can terminate the contract. If the organiser reserves the right to increase the price, the traveller is entitled to a price reduction if there is a decrease in the relevant costs.
6. Travellers may terminate the contract without paying termination fees and obtain a full refund of payments if any of the essential elements of the package, other than the price, have changed substantially. If, before the start of the package, the professional responsible for the package cancels the package, travelers have the right to obtain a refund and, where appropriate, compensation.
7. Travellers may, in exceptional circumstances, terminate the contract without paying a termination fee before the start of the package, for example if there are serious security issues at the place of destination that may affect the package. - In addition, travellers may terminate the contract at any time prior to the commencement of the package upon payment of appropriate and justifiable termination fees.
8. If, after the commencement of the package, substantial elements of the package cannot be supplied as agreed, suitable alternative solutions must be offered to the traveller, at no additional price. Travellers may terminate the contract, without paying a termination fee, if the services are not performed as agreed and this significantly affects the execution of the package and the organiser has not remedied the problem.
9. Travellers are also entitled to a price reduction and/or compensation for damages in the event of non-compliance or non-compliance with the provision of underage tourist services, even if committed abroad.
10. The organiser is obliged to provide assistance if the traveller is in difficulty. – If the organiser or, in some Member States, the seller becomes insolvent, payments will be refunded. If the organiser or, where applicable, the seller becomes insolvent after the start of the package and if transport is included in the package, the repatriation of the travellers is guaranteed.
